His Magic Number Is Ten: 1952, 1962, 1972

Mr. Frank Tout came to Howe in 1952 as an English teacher. He has been a Business Manager, Director of Productions, and adviso of the 1961 Hilltopper. He became vice-principal in 1962 after a year in England teaching at King Edward VI School. Succeeding Mr. Thomas Stirling, Mr. Tout became principal of Howe in 1972.

The Touts have two children, David and Sarah. Mr. Tout also enjoys watching "bad" TV.

On October 19th, 62 Howe teachers struck the Indianapolis Board of School Commissioners in support of the Indianapolis Education Association's demands of binding arbitration, a sick leave bank, maximum class size, and a 5½% pay increase.

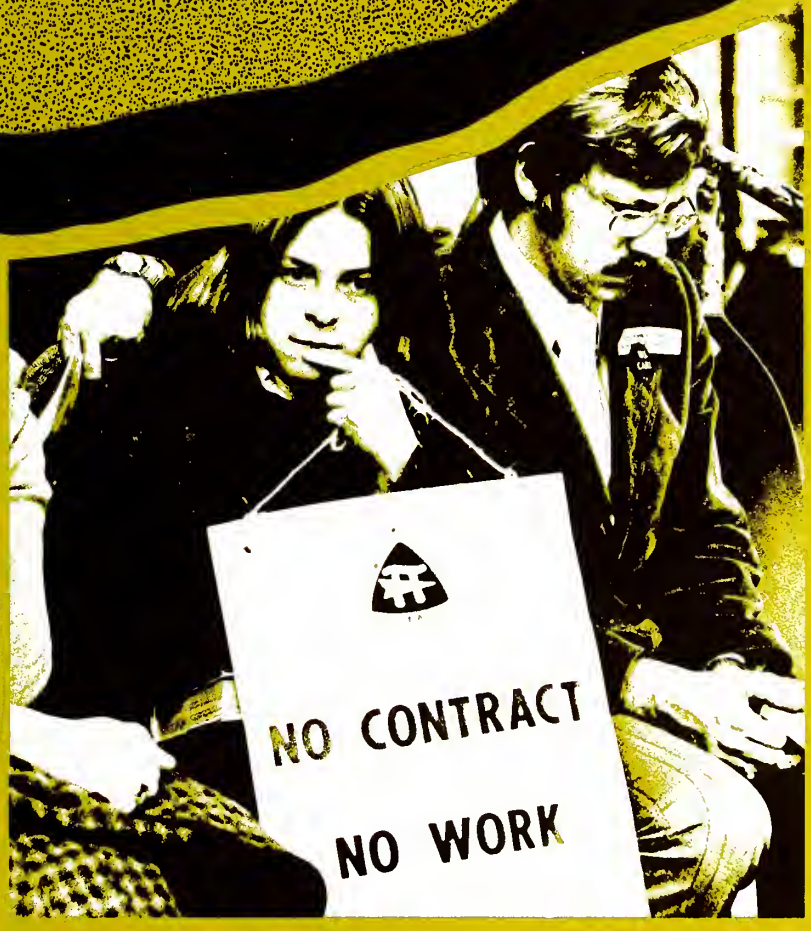

Negotiations, which had been under way since spring, reached an impass in September.

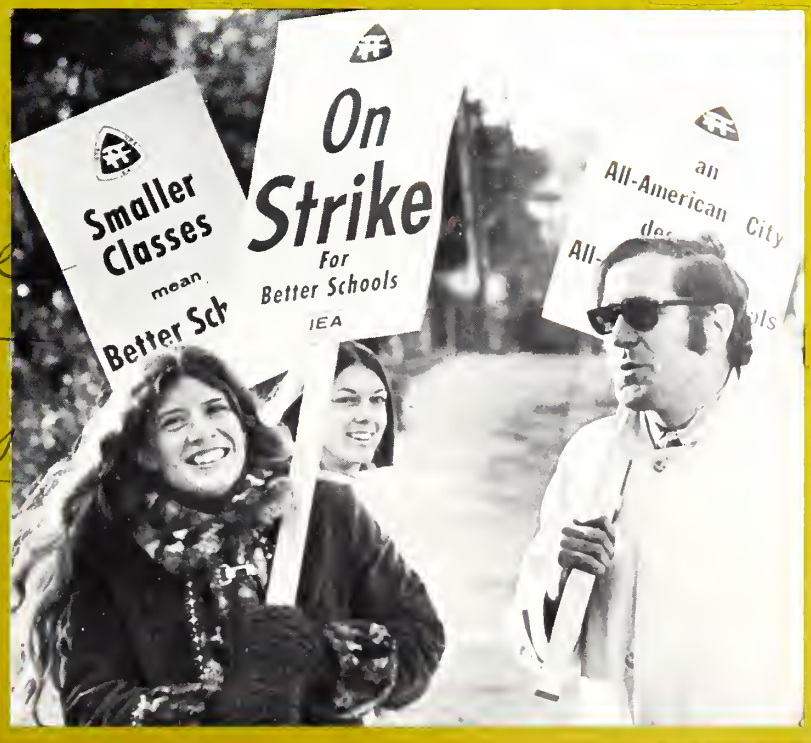

The school board sought and received an injunction from Judge John Niblack ordering the city's teachers back to the classroom.

The I.E.A. and the school board then agreed to arbitration by Judge Niblack, whose mid-November decision was accepted by both sides. The I.E.A. won most of its orginial demands.

Before the final settlement was reached, 7 Howe teachers had been arrested for violation of the court injunction.

New Addition to Be Completed in September, 1974

New construction at Howe and modernization of the present structure are set for completion by September, 1974. The timetable depends upon weather, no labor troubles, and no problems in delivery of materials. Included in the new building will be a boys gymnasium, a new library, new offices, a transportation area, and a construction industries area. In the present structure there will be a new home economics area, enlarged areas for business education, girls physical education, health careers, art, music, and special education.

Parking woes, long a Howe headache, should be relieved by the addition of new parking areas.

Although construction had not begun when this book went to press, houses on the west side of Bancroft Street (pictured at the right) had been purchased by the board of School Commissioners.

The architect's drawing at the right pictures the new addition from the corner of Bancroft and Railroad Streets.

Hi, how are ya? I'm in study and I remembered I owed ya, so I'm writing ya back. Make sense don't it. Sorry it's taken so long.
I really don't know what to say, cuz I don't have your note. How's basketball going? Your first game was today. Did ya win? The varsity team's lousy. Are you going to their game Sat.? You've been kind of unfriendly lately, how come? Did I do something wrong? Well, gotta go.

"I don't know why everybody says that they hate going to Howe. Howe has got good facilities, and a good reputation as a good school. On top of that we have got a great student body that has a awful lot of school spirit. Maybe a lot of people don't like coming to Howe, but then they would't be happy anywhere else either."

"Howe is a great school with a lot of good teachers. The after school activities are great too. I have been in two sports, wrestling and football. Coach Arvin is and was my coach. I think he is one of the best teachers at Howe. I feel I am getting a good education here. At 62 I was failing math, but now in algebra with Mr. Kemper as my teacher I am an "A" student. But the Discipline is too strict."

"I think Howe is the best school in Marion County."

The Student Writes, Draws

"I think Howe is a super-great high school. To me the school spirit is excellent, and nothing could be better than that. Hope it never changes, if so only for the better."

"I like it here at Howe, because there are a lot of sports I can go out for. I already have an award for running freshman cross country. I plan to go out for freshman baseball as a catcher."

"Howe is a very spirited school, and known for its name."

"They need a beer machine in the rest rooms, and they need a coke machine in the cafeteria, and we should be able to smoke between classes."

"Howe is a very good school, the girls are cute."

"I like Howe because of all the girls that go here, sometimes I wish I was older."

"I think Howe is a pretty nice school. Well, sometimes at least."

"I like Howe, but the ants are a different story. Everywhere you see little red ants. The teachers and kids are nice. We have a good football team. The librarian is mean sometimes. She won't let you sit next to your friends. In study hall you should be able to whisper, but you can't even talk. Anyhow you put it, Howe is the best."

"I think Howe is a pretty nice school, because it has nice people, tuff boys and nice teachers."

"I like Howe, but this year it's too crowded. There are too many people in the halls."

"The school is all right, but some of the teachers I do not like. For instance, Mr. Patterson."

"Howe stinks as far as I'm concerned. Because they only have a handfull of Blacks. They don't include in their dances a variety of Black music. Instead they play only their music and nothing else. So my view of Howe won't change until they change."

"Howe is 8:00 to 3:15, five days a week."

"Howe wasn't anything like I expected. It was better than what I heard. I love everything about Howe."

"I like Howe High School a lot better than any grade school because the teachers are nice, tuff guys and some friendly girls. I have only one thing against this school; it should have an elevator."

"I have study first and I think its boring. If you don't have anything to do, you just sit there and the time goes so slow. You're not allowed to sleep. I just don't like having study first. If I had it last or around there, it would be better."

The Grudge

I have spent so many hours gazing out of this window, wishing that someone might come within my garden gate. I really can't remember why no one ever comes to see me. The children idling home from school, surely they could stop in to see a poor old woman. I'm especially lonely today. It's the first of spring. I've seen the first robin and the blossoming of the lilacs. This beautiful time, this time of rebirth. The Easter lilies have sprung up. The world awaits this season with anticipation. A lightness overshadows the omnious clouds in the sky. Even a rainstorm will be fresh and pure.

Why, with this surrounding beauty do I feel so ugly? Within the space of my garden fence is a darkness. Something so very heavy is pulling me down. What — oh, now I remember. The grudge. So many years ago. The grudge is the iron pendant upon my breast, the lock on my garden gate.

It's so silly now, I can't even remember who, or is it what, I have begrudged these many years. I remember how it was in the beginning. I wanted only to be left alone. Clear of obligations, cares, or worries. I wanted no one or no thing to distract me from my fury. I was full of hate and revenge.

So many years wasted. So many joys unknown. A love unfulfilled. I could have cast away this burden on my breast and soared to the ultimate of my being. I could have been freed if only I had forgiven him. If I had only trusted him; If I had put my faith in him.

There is a child approaching my gate. Oh, God, let him come in. The child can save me. No, please don't turn away. I don't want to be alone. His mother is calling to him. He is turning away.

"The old woman is crazy. She might hurt you. Never go near her again. Do you understand?"

Do you understand? Does anyone?

Changing Classes

Five mintues to go. It's almost over. Four minutes to go. Almost time. Three minutes to go. Just a little longer. Two minutes to go. Keep going, clock. One minute. Almost here. At last. Got to get to my locker, All this bumping. Get out of my way! Yes, teacher? Me? Of course not. I didn't knock his books. Go where? Room 124? But . . . I know, Room 124. What did I do? Well, you see, uh . . . Okay, Room 268. 3:15? But, but . . . Could I have a pass? I know I'm late to class.

Kevin Moorhead

Reflections

The halls are quiet now; only scarcely populated with students and teachers. It's hard to imagine three thousand people scrambling in different directions after the sounding of one little bell.

The gym looks dead compared to the shouts and excitement of a crowd at a basketball game, a wrestling match, even a pep assembly.

Each player doing his best, not just for the sake of winning, but for the ability challenge requires.

The auditorium is deserted. No one practising his or her lines for the senior play. No sounding of the orchestra at the conductor's command No choir setting the scene with music for the annual musical. Not even the sound of one lone speaker from the podium.

Even the classrooms seem desolate. Another janitor washes the day's knowledge off the blackboard. No more slamming lockers or dropping books until tomorrow. Well, until tomorrow for some.

Will memory actually preserve four of the most nerve-racking, exciting, disappointing, fun — the best four years of a person's life? Four years come and go about as fast as a favorite class.

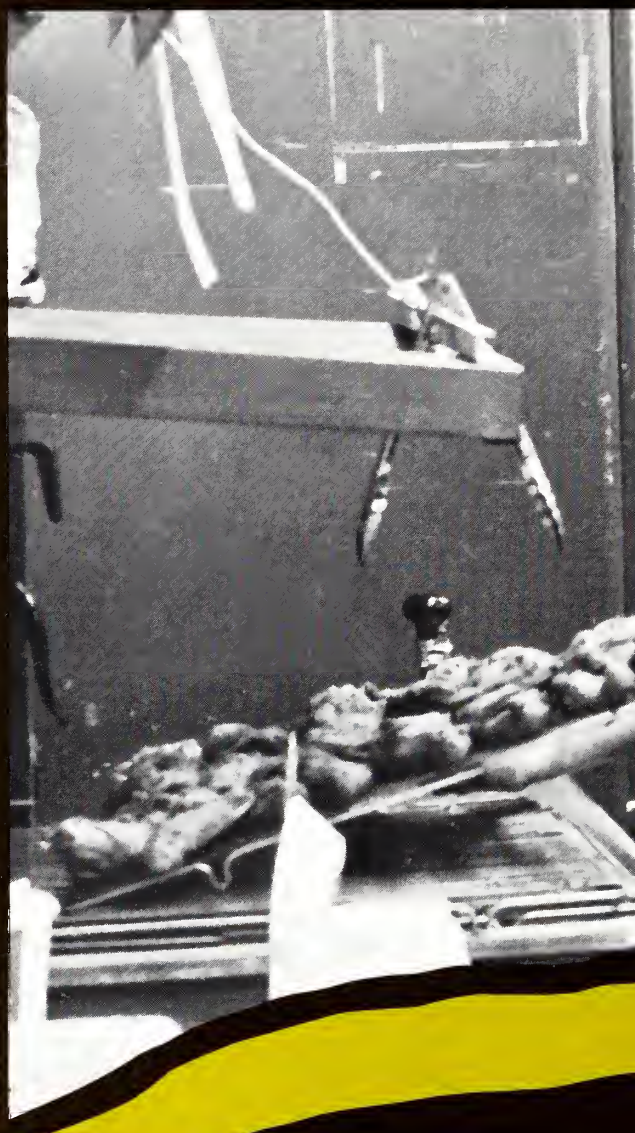

The beginning of high school, with all of its unsureness and confusion, soon becomes the finale and then it's time to leave.

Leaving is part of being a senior. The sad part, but the necessary part. Maybe someday I'll just look back and smile, or come back and remember.

A teenager's free time was filled with community sponsered programs, current fads, and "just messin" around.

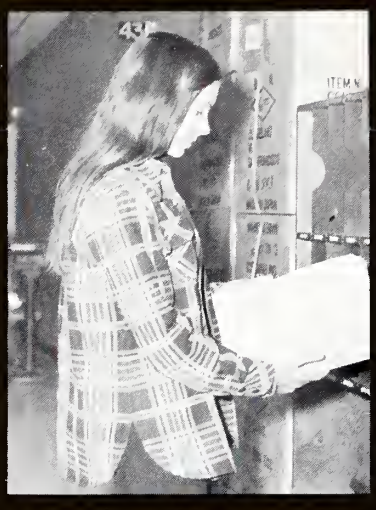

Some girls volunteered afternoons and evenings to work with patients at different medical institutions.

Sunday was an active day for youth involved in church activities. Singing in the church choir and participating in evening youth groups took up many hours. These youth groups bowled, ice skated, and went on weekend retreats.

The fabulous 50's returned with the "layered look,"set off with baggy pants, and blazers with emphasis on pastels. Male fashions turned to cuffed pants, flowered shirts, and poor boy vests. The return of the oxford and the rise of the high-heeled shoe joined the boot brigade.

Leading the sounds of '72 were such songs as Chuck Berry's My Ding-A-Ling, Elton John's Crocodile Rock, Summer Breeze by Seals and Crofts and You're So Vain performed by Carly Simon.

The Godfather and The Valachi Papers revived the era of the Mafia, while The Posiedon Adventure and Deliverance, both water tragedies, proved to be popular.

Some kids supplemented their reading program with The Corn Cob Curtain, a teenage commentary on today's society.

Going out to get a pizza after the games was part of just messin' around. Gettin' the gang together, finding someone to drive and getting there soon enough to get a seat was all part of the fun.

Basketball and football games provided a place to go with the gang on weekends. To get out and root for the team was really fun for some, even if we lost.

During the week it was harder to find something to do, but wrestling meets, ice skating and just driving around were all ways to get out of the house.

Dating was another form of messin' around. Shows, going out to eat, games, and shopping were things guys and girls could enjoy together.

Teachers are human too. When they are not at home thinking up ways to aggravate students, many teachers spent time on hobbies, recreation, special interests, volunteer work in the community, and part-time jobs. Building a cottage of their own was Don and Gloria Townsend's dream. This dream was fulfilled in the summer of '71. The modified A-frame cabin is located in Owen county near Spencer IN. Their one-bedroom two story home had only one fault; they put the bathroom door on upside down. While digging the well, they didn't strike oil, but they did strike quicksand. Except for some minor changes, the Townsends are so pleased with the results that they spend every possible weekend at the cottage. Some of the staff members expanded their income by moonlighting on other jobs. Robert King spent his extra time enjoying the congregation at Mount Zion Baptist Church as Assistant Pastor. Justin Rehm earned a little extra pocket money by selling mutual funds. Operating a hotel switch board was Dorothy Smith's second job. Alen Miers worked as a security guard here at Howe and also at Ayr-Way. Wallace Smith, custodian, worked as a maintenance man at Indiana National Bank. Fishing is common outdoor sport unless you are like Bill Smith who spends his summers in Northern Michigan studying the feeding habits of the Salvelinus fortnalis, commonly known as the brook trout. He has engaged in this hobby for the past thirty five years. Accepting challenges of any nature is an interest of Errol Spears and Ron Finkbiner. Working as a team, they have been challenged to many contests, such as gourmet cooking and basketball. They defeated the Marshall faculty doubles champions in several matches. Harry Preston and Mark Sutton have challenged Errol and Ron to many bridge games of which both teams have won and lost. Tim Jessup started a cheap and exciting activity — parachuting. Tim had his first four-hour lesson in November and has made several jumps since that time. His first four jumps were static-line jumps where the instructor pulls his rip-cord. The remaining four jumps were freefall, in which the jumper pulls his own rip-cord Involved in the equistrain, both Sandra Brady and Shirley Smith enjoy the pleasure of owning horses. Riding purely for pleasure, Shirley Smith owns a dark Palimino named Flicker. Entering into jumping contests across the Mid-West, Sandra Brady and her horse, Doctor Kosadus won several ribbons.

Thomas L. Stirling

On January 21, at 4:00 p.m., a program was given honoring Mr. Thomas Stirling, retired principal of Howe. Howard Caldwell, a Howe alumnus and local newscaster, served as Master of Ceremonies in a "This is your Life" format. Many alumni of Howe and Warren Central High School (where Mr. Stirling taught before coming to Howe) participated as well as fraternity brothers and relatives of Mr. Stirling. Highlighting the program was the naming of the auditorium after Mr. Stirling and the presentation of his portrait to the school.

"Different occupations attract different types of people. Working as an icehouse operator, a scow boat worker, a coal miner, a painter's helper, restaurant waiter, a minor league ball player, an automatic tapping machine operator, and a school teacher has given me the opportunity to meet and respect all kinds." This is the way Thomas Stirling once answered a questionairre about the "facts of your life which you believe would have a special bearing upon your interest in and training for teaching."

Mr. Stirling was a coordinator of the Indiana University Workshop for Student Councils for eight years and was Executive Secretary of the Indiana Association of Student Councils for twenty years.

Office Staff Assists School

Duties of Howe's Office Staff included typing, filing, and record keeping. Eleven office workers assisted faculty, administration, and students in the bookstore, library, senior office, departmental offices, and gymnasium.
The cafeteria staff began their day at 7:00 a.m. and daily served 2,450 students and 124 teachers. Keeping the school heated and clean was the major function of the custodians. The Security Guards protected school property and students.

P.T.A., 400 Club Serve Howe

The P.T.A. and the Men's 400 Club form a very important part of Howe. Besides giving parents a chance to talk with the teachers of Howe, the P.T.A. also donated money for many different school activities. In turn the Men's 400 Club operated concession booths at home football and basketball games. The main project of the 400 Club in 1973 was to assist in the completion of the new baseball diamond. The 1973 P.T.A. officers were Mrs. Wm. Programs featured Mr. William Sumlin, Dean of Boys; Mrs. Patricia Alexander, Dean of Girls' Mr. Albert Umphrey, Freshman Counselor; and Mr. Charles Ruschhaupt, Vice-Principal.

Students Volunteer Service

Business Managers sold tickets for home games and dramatic and musical productions from a small booth at the entrance to the stadium, the front door of the gymnasium, or the ticket window located in the auditorium lobby.

Mr. Harry Preston directed these students who volunteered to serve as ushers and keep attendance figures for school functions.

Assisting deans, the school nurses and the bookstore manager, office messengers delivered messages and cut slips, typed and mimeographed school notices, checked daily attendance records, and sorted mail.

Interested students gained one-half credit working in the library. Students spent one semester in classes learning how to use the library filing system, the card catalogue, and the Readers's Guide to Periodical Literature. After the semester in class students met one period daily to repair books, replace them in their proper stacks, trace lost books, and to prepare weekly displays in the showcase opposite the library.

Students volunteering one period a day assisted Mrs. Rauch and Mrs. Hulbert in the clinic. Clinic assistants filed notices, kept records, took temperatures and helped with minor bandages.

English

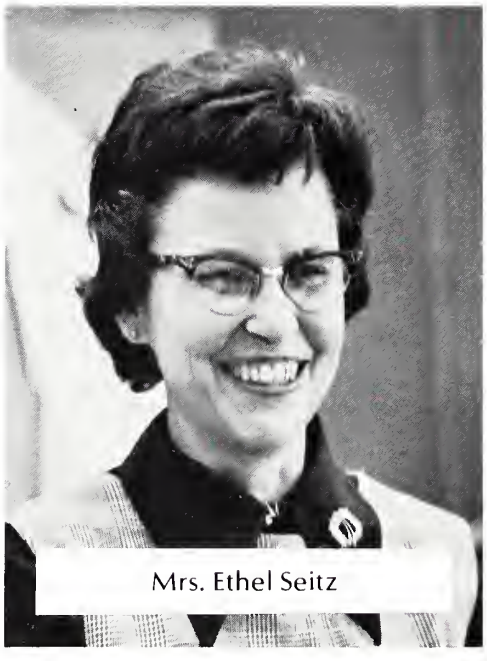

Experiments with mini courses, shortened term papers, and team teaching provided change in the curriculum and teaching methods in the English Department. In preparation for a new, different format, students in third or eighth period English elected a mini course. A new concept, the mini course offered each student a chance to enjoy the study of a particular area of English. The program was designed for the needs of the student who needed aid with grammar, or who desired a chance to study the works of Hermann Hesse, science fiction, or the poetry of Rod McKuen.

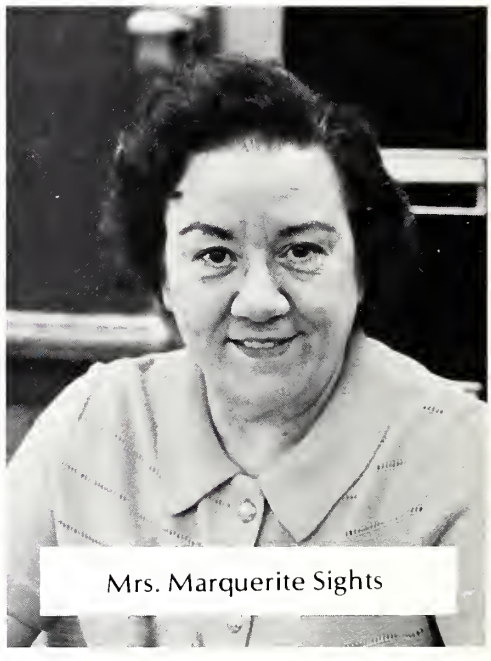

New concepts and classes were designed to meet the increased student body of Howe. English 7G classes were initiated to accomodate the students who could not qualify or schedule into the English 7AP class. Previously there had not been enough recommendations to create such a class. Enrollment in English 7 AP offered senior English students the chance to gain college credit in English. The English 7G class discussed everything from Hesse's SIDD HARTHA to the Women's Liberation Movement. Students in the English team teaching program studied with four different teachers. Originated in the second semester, English 6G classes used the Howe library facilities, heard lectures, and discussed literature.

Math

Howe's Math Department experienced several firsts! A husband and wife teaching in the same department in the same school. A "mathematical union" between Mr. Jack Kemper and Miss Nancy McMillan (now Mrs. Kemper) was formed on August 12 this summer.

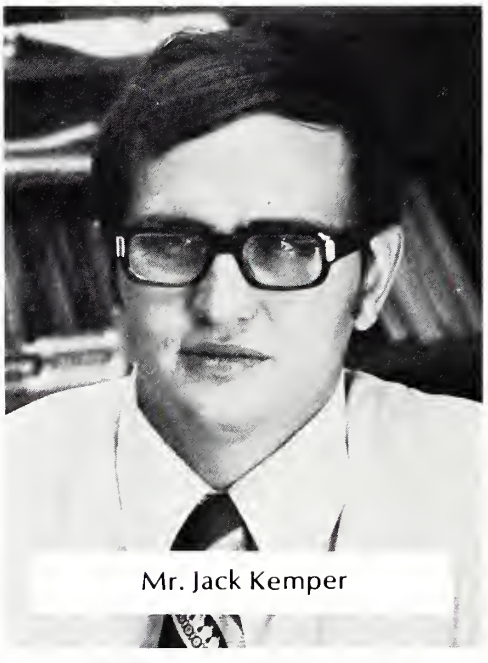

No textbooks! What new concept is this? The past summer, Mr. Edward Kuonen and Mr. Robert King prepared classwork for Basic Math classes. A grant from the National Science Foundation provided the funds for the work.

Mr. Glenn Rohde taught for Notre Dame during the fall and spring semesters.

Calculus books were late first semester so Mr. Rohde lectured his classes for the first six weeks. Once again, funds were not available for the computer terminal. As a result, Computer Math was dropped from the curriculum at the last minute.

Social Studies

Several Weekly publications aided the Social Studies Department in various classes. Time magazine was used as a supplement to World History, Economics, Government, and International Relations classes to relate important current events that were discussed and debated by students. Issues Today, a magazine which brought forth the students' inner thoughts and caused them to develop their ideas and opinions, was also added to World History classes.

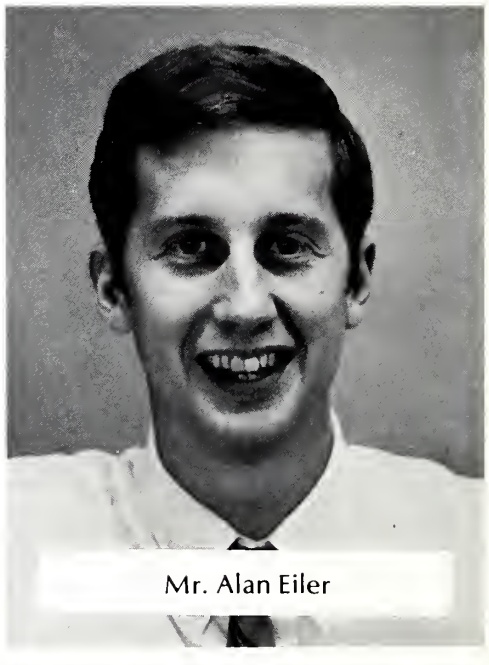

The annual mock election held special interest for juniors and seniors, some of whom voted in the November election. Some of the activities that were involved in making the election as real as possible included campaigning, nominating, and the actual voting for either the Nationalists or the Federalists party candidates.

Science

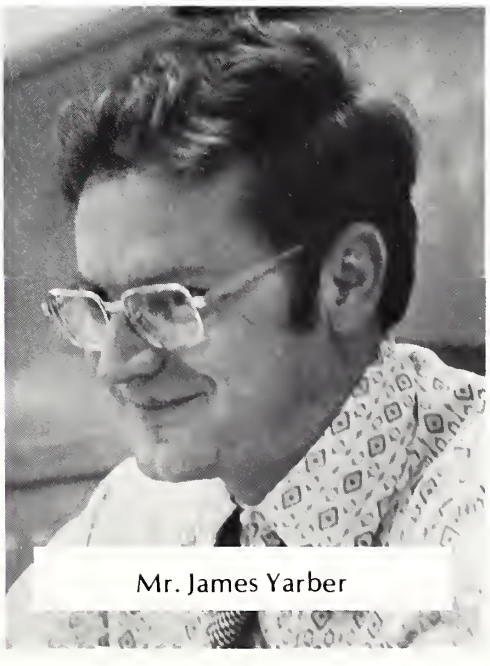

A new course and the enrollment of biology classes were responsible for an increase in staff personnel. Biology, which has had the largest enrollment of any other course in the Science Department since 1938, was taught by new teachers—Mrs. Joan Luft, Mr. Junius Bibbs, and Mr. Tim Jessup. Human Environment was proposed for the spring semester. The class combined Social Studies, English, and Science. It involved the study of ecology and it's effect on the past, present and future societies.

Home Economics

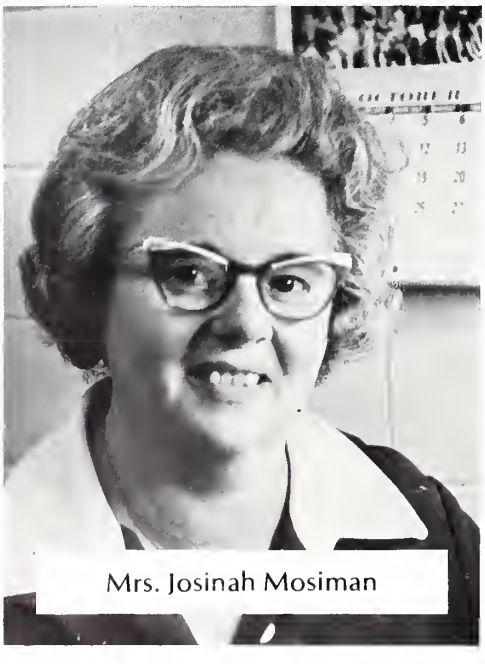

Howe's Home Economics Department, headed by Mrs. Doris Cartwright, offered Foods, Clothing, Home Nursing and Housing and Management. Students learned nutrition, how to select and buy foods, good grooming and cosmetics. In the advanced courses they learned gourmet cooking and tailoring. In cooperation with other departments, Home Economic students invited French classes to enjoy a French meal they had prepared. The department also served and provided refreshments at an informal gathering for family, faculty, and guests after the National Honor Society initiation.

Industrial Arts

Learning new skills with hand tools and machines inspired students of the Industrial Arts Department to make desks, bowls, lamps, and stereo cabinets. The department provides many services for the school office and building. They print tickets, programs, instruction sheets, stationary, and newsletters. In addition, the department performs small services and makes emergency repairs on broken desks, lockers, shoes, and jewelry.

Girls R.O.T.C. Added to Curriculum

The Howe Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) expanded its' curriculum as to include females and the study of military science. Girl's ROTC was initiated the second semester. An after-school club was organized during the fall for students interested in the study of military science. The Military Science Club discussed the evolution of warfare in addition to the study of famous battles in history. Students enrolled in ROTC courses were taught American military history, weapon safety and markmanship. ROTC students functioned as the Color Guard at home football and basketball games. Selected ROTC candidates represented Howe at drill and rifle meets.

Girls chosen as sponsors for ROTC marched in parades, took part in inspection, attended social functions for ROTC and assisted in clerical duties in the office.

Business

Electronic calculators, additional staff personnel, and an opportunity to work in an office climaxed changes in the Business Department. Office Production, formerly a credited class, was offered to business students any period of the day. Students assigned to work in the Business Department produced materials and made services available to many of the school's departmental offices. Designed to refine students useable or saleable skills in the various office services, course projects expanded ths skills of the individual. Course projects included working as a receptionist in the business office, duplication of materials for the office, typing straight copy material, displays in business classrooms and hall showcases, and the composition of PTA booklets, basketball schedules, Senior play programs, and sche dules of classes.

Physical Education

The yearly mass of freshmen invaded the Howe gymnasium once again. After locating the gym more than 800 freshmen were aquainted with the downstairs locker rooms, locks, five minute dress changes, tests, and the distinct odor of a locker room. Cramped space did not discourage freshmen and advanced students as they kept physically fit by daily exercise.

Foreign Language

The study of a foreign language was more than learning the grammar of a language and more than just the ability to effectively speak a language. At Howe, foreign language students were introduced to the study of the grammar, speech, and the culture of their second language. In advanced language classes, students worked in an independent study program. Permitted to work at his own pace, each individual studied the culture of a language by reading its literature.

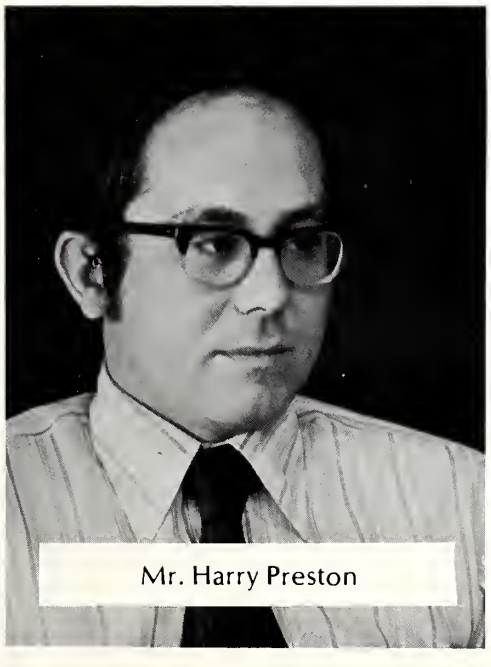

Approximately 700 students enrolled in language programs. Changes in the department from the previous year included added curriculum and a new department head. Mr. Walter Degler continued the teaching of the German classes initiated last year. Second-year German was also offered. Mr. Raymond Hulce, a veteran of the language deaprtment, was named to head the department after the retirement of former head, Miss Mary Thumma. Paul Gerzon, Albert Rossi, and Rick Miller participated in the I.U. Honors Program.

The Music Department welcomed to its staff a new band director, who replaced Mr. Louis McEnderfer. Mr. Terrill Mahler showed great enthusiasm by expanding the instrumental portion of the department curriculumn in initiating a Dance Band. Relying on the Howe Marching Band, the Dance Band is now a parallel to the orchestra's string ensemble.

Also initiated was a Pops Concert held on November 17 in the cafeteria. Orchestra, Band, Girls and Boys Octets, Boys and Girls Concert Clubs, and Madrigals all participated.

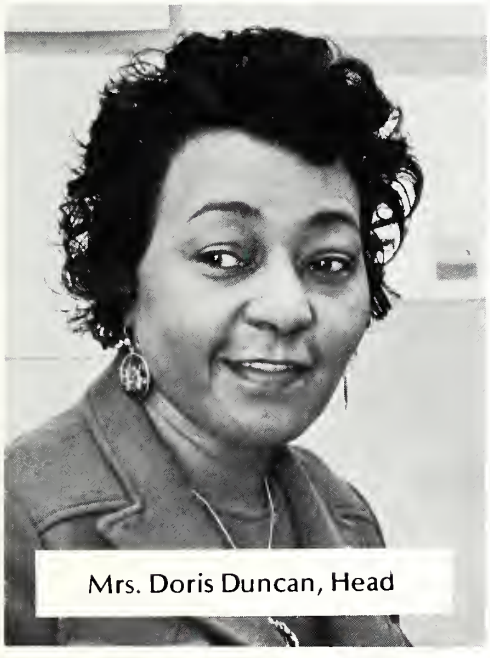

The traditional performances were held at Christmas, Easter, and Graduation.

Art

Two Students in the Art Department, Marta Scott and Alan Peterson, were honored in the Herron Art Festival, with scholarships to the Herron School of Art. In addition to her duties within the department, Mrs. Duncan, head of the department, collected material to be in an intramural art festival held in the spring. This festival consisted of an after school showing of the works of many of the advanced art students.

Seniors

In the fall, eight individuals were elected as class officers. Paul Gerzon, president, accepted the gavel at a formal installation of officers held in senior homeroom. Class officers worked one period daily in the Senior Office. The colors committee selected cranberry, gold, and navy blue as senior colors. Students selected for awards were chosen on the basis of service, leadership, citizenship, scholarship, and loyalty. At the Honor's Day Assembly, students who excelled in all fields were recognized for their achievements. Final senior activities were held the week before graduation. Senior activities included a tricycle race, pie-eating contest, tug of war, senior breakfast, and the Senior Prom.

Georgia Hughes Plays Glockenspiel

The Junior class of 597 students anticipated such activities as the preliminary SAT test, voting in the mock election, and their prom. Vickie Clapper, Debbie Bray, Rosalie Bruce, and Laurie Gibson were ROTC sponsors. For the first time a Junior, Lee Ann Brooks, was chosen editor of the Howe Tower. Theresa Sheetz reigned over Howe at the annual Jamboree. The upper 10 % of the class was initiated into the National Honor Society in May. Larry McCormick and Steve Harton, skilled members of the Varsity Football Team, were voted co-captains for next fall's term. Mark Hancock was an outstanding member of the Varsity Basketball Team.

Several events highlighted the year for the 666 members of the class of '75. Sophomores watched with pride as Suzie Lawrence was crowned Football Homecoming Queen. Dan Whitaker, and alternates Chris Reed, and Charles Clinard were selected to be members of the 1973 Quiz team, and Mark Thomas's skill made him runner-up for the city championship in tennis. Eight sophomore girls were selected for the gymnastics team, and five made Reserve cheerleaders. Sophomores also added their strength and ability in the football and basketball games. Drill Team, Tower, Hilltopper staffs, and other school clubs were additional activities for the outgoing sophomores.

Howe's varsity baseball squad finished with a winning record of 15 wins and 7 losses. The 1972 season was Coach Dick Patterson's last year as coach and the first year of use for the team's new uniforms, which were designed by Howe faculty member Justin Rehm.

Sophomore Larry McCormick spurred the team to a winning season with 23 runs. Senior Louis Saba was close behind with 18 runs. Pitcher Ron Lawson, with 24 hits, had the highest battling average of .329. Other outstanding players were seniors Russ Hollenbaugh, the teams leading pitcher; Louis Saba, infielder, and outfielder Rick Longerich, who led the team in runs batted in with 15. Coach Errol Spears' Junior Varsity squad had a 14-5 record for another winning season. The J.V.'s didn't lose a single game to any other city team, giving them the right to call themselves the best junior varsity team in the city. As pitcher, Pat Lepper had an individual win-loss record of 10-2. Randy Kord and Ed Rogers helped Pat out on the mound. Greg Anderson, Rusty Eads and Mark Piercy all had over .400 hitting averages. Frank Fields was the leader in runs batted in and runs scored. Greg Anderson was named the top defensive outfielder by Coach Spears.

Bob Gray, outstanding junior runner, became the new city mile champ this year while setting a new school record. He now holds the freshman and varsity 880 and mile records.

For the third consecutive year all the track events were divided among the coaches, with Mr. Wood coaching the distance events, Mr. Harpold the pole vault and shot put, and Mr. Mitchell the high jump, long jump and dashes.

The varsity, a little weak in the high hurdles, came out of 15 meets with 8 wins. Ken Manson and Bob Gray were elected captain and most valuable respectively, while Keith Flowers received the best mental attitude award.

The reserve track team came out with a winning record, with 11 wins against 4 losses. Freshmen made up most of the team but the upperclassmen added their experience to lead the way.

Roger Wright was elected most valuable frosh track man, as he ran with the varsity in most of the meets. The freshmen gained much experience although they lost their two meets, one a closely contested duel with Manual.

Assisting at the meets were the Hornet Honeys, who helped keep score and pass out ribbons.

Mark Thomas, the first freshman in the history of the Indianapolis Tennis Tournament to take first in the number one singles, anchored the 1972 Spring Tennis team to a victorious season. The team placed third in the city with nine wins and four losses.

Inexperience proved to be the team's major problem. Of the six positions on the team, only Jeff Flowers and Chuck were seniors.

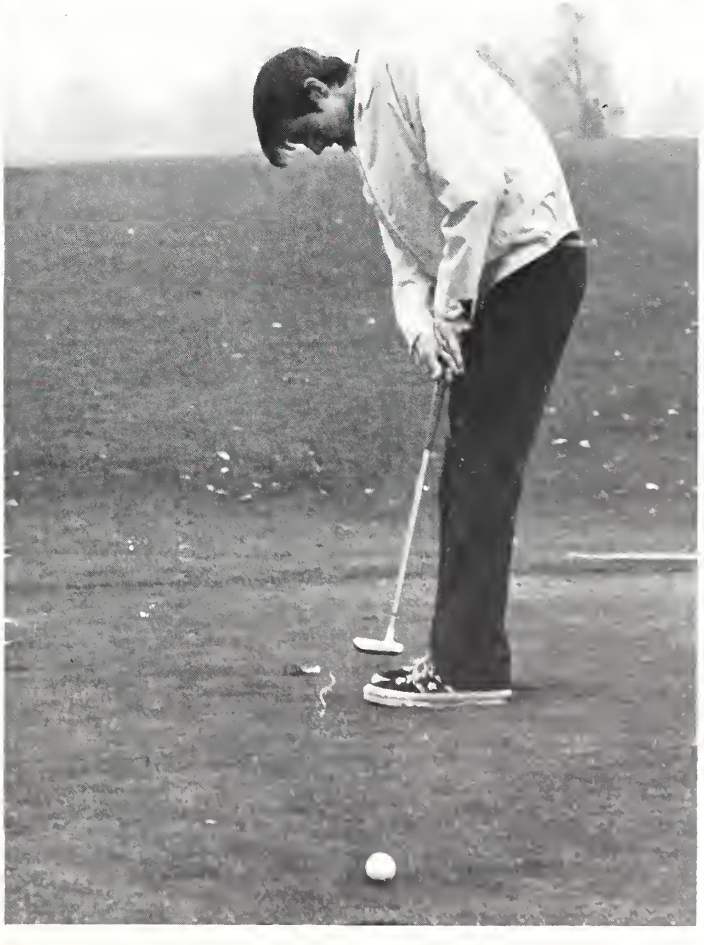

Howe's 1972 Golf Team showed tremendous skill and accuracy throughout the season. A winning season of 13 wins, 2 losses, and one tie was highlighted by the performance of the team in the City Tournament. Their skill and determination earned the team a fourth place finish. The biggest match was played against Cathedral. Howe's game with the defending city champs ended in a tie.

Coach Brow attributed much of the team's success to their co-operativeness. Senior Dan Stewart was number one man on the team. Of the six positions on the team, four places were occupied by sophomores and freshmen. Coach Brown predicts a winning season next year as most of the team will be returning. These returning underclassmen provided substantial stability to this years golf team. Based on past experience, Coach Brown predicted a winning season for 1973.

Varsity Second in City

Howe's 1972 Varsity Football team came close to an undefeated Season, losing only to the Washington Continnentals. For the first time recorded in Howe history a player gained over 1000 yards. Senior halfback Mark Piercy gained 1018 yards for thirteen touchdowns and a 5.6 average. Other outstanding members of Coach Dave Stewart's squad who spurred the team on to a second in the city ratings were Walter Wren who also obtained a 5.6 average, Junior Quarterback Scott Erickson who passed for 52 completions, 10 touchdowns, 660 yards. Howe outscored their opponents 223-111 thanks to the fine blocking of Dennis Brunner, Dick Kingery, and the rest of the line. The line coach was Mr. Dick Harpold. The squad had some fine receivers in Frank Mackell and Walter Wren, respectively with 18 passes caught for 292 yards and 19 passes caught for 236 yards. Commenting on the team Coach Dave Stewart was very pleased with the team's performance. Their winning record wasn't because of any one individual but rather the fact that everyone did their job and did it well.

An impressive record of 7-2 was obtaind by Howe's Reserve Football team, coached by Mr. James Arvin and Mr. Harry Preston. Outstanding running backs Mike Maddox and Mick Dean boosted the squad along to a winning season and a third place ranking in the final city standings. Without the blocking of big Dan Bailey and the rest of the offensive line, the backs wouldn't have gotten through to the goal line.

Coach Jerry McLeish's freshman football team finished out their season with a 4-5 record. The quick offensive backfield consisting of Doug Privette, Glenn Cherry, Kurt McLeod, and Mark Gillespie have a promising future, says Coach McLeish. About Kevin Johnson, the teams best pass receiver, he said has a lot of potential. Gary Pottorf and Kevin Johnson were elected co-captains of the freshmen squad. Coach McLeish is assisted by Coach James Thompson, who was also the freshman basketball coach.

Cross country may be one of the least complicated sports, but it proved to be extremely grueling and competitive in 1972. Cross country is a running race in which the participants cover a distance of two and one-half miles over ground, around trees, and up and down hills. In a cross country meet the first five finishers for each team decide the scoring, each scoring the same number of points as the position in which they finished. Unlike most other sports, low score wins in cross country.

As the 1972 season began, Coach Billy Wood felt his varsity runners had a good chance to be city champs. They narrowly missed achieving this goal, finishing second to Tech by a score of 50 to 54. Bob Gray, Keith Flowers, and Roger Wright came in fourth, fifth, and seventh respectively in the meet.

Keith and Bob were outstanding runners throughout the season. Facing several of the top teams in the state, the varsity posted a record of 6 wins and 3 losses, not including a fifth place finish out of 15 teams in the Ben Davis Invitational or fourth out of 12 teams in the Howe Invitational. At the end of the regular season they ran in the Ben Davis Sectional where they placed third.

The junior varsity team gave good reasons to look optimistically toward next year. John Adams, Gary Whitmore, Doug McCrae, Jim Rettig, and Jack Corman scored for Howe as the reserves won the city meet to become the 1972 city champions. They also had a record of 6 wins and three losses. They placed fourth out of 15 teams in the Ben Davis Invitational.

Howe's freshmen harriers got off to a slow start, but they snapped out of it and looked impressive in the latter part of the season. After dropping their first three confrontations, they settled down and convincingly won their final meets. The frosh runners also looked good as they finished fifth out of 10 teams in the Howe Invitational. They completed the season with a fifth place finish in the city championship.

Coached by Mr. Ron Finkbiner the 1972 Fall Tennis Team won seven out of nine games and finished second in the sectionals. They went on to capture the same title in the city tournament.

Sophomore Mark Thomas placed first in the city, and third in the regionals as the number one singles player. The doubles team of Mark Thomas and Rick Wall placed second in the sectionals helping the team to place second in the sectionals to state champ Broad Ripple.

The Girls' Volleyball Team, plagued the inexperience, selected freshman Carol McCrae as most valuable player on the team. The volleyball team was composed of three seniors, six juniors, two sophomores, and five freshman. Mary Kay Solberg won the Best Mental attitude award. Mrs. Nancy Kemper coached the team for the first year.

The girls had a three win seven loss record. They won their first set of games in the city tournament but lost the next set to Marshall.

Mrs. Kemper stated, "I didn't know everything so I learned along with the girls and we had a lot of fun. Maybe next year we will get everything together in more than three games."

Coach Jim Stutz's Varsity basketball squad met with a disappointing season with a 4-16 record. Inexperience and lack of depth were cited by Coach Stutz as some of the reasons for this year's poor season. The Varsity netters also won two games in the City and Sectional tourneys. Despite the teams poor record several individuals had a good season, including Keith Conway who, was described by Coach Stutz as one of Howe's top five rebounders. Keith accounted for one third of the team's rebounds with 209. Besides being a fine rebounder Keith was second in the City scoring rankings with a total of 371 points for an 18.5 average. Another outstanding player was Junior Mark Hancock, who shot a team high of 78% from the freethrow line and 49% from the floor for 341 points and 17 point average. Jeff Pollom, one of the team's seniors fired 60% from the freethrow line and 23% from the floor. Jeff was out of action several weeks with a broken arm. Mark Roembke helped out the squad with 88 assists, for a team high. Coach Stutz named Dave DePew as the team's most improved player. Overall the team shot 42% from the floor and 66% from the freethrow line. Coach Robert Mitchell's Reserve basketball team won only three of their nineteen games, but like their varsity counterparts there were several individuals who had a good season. Mark Gardner, the team's leading scorer was one of these individuals, who had a good season. Mark had a 7.7 average with 139 points. Close behind Mark was Tom Kaye who had 130 points for a 8.7 average. One of the team's problems was rebounding, although once they got the ball the squad depended on teamwork to score as depicted by the large number of assists contributed by Rusty Eads and Jim Stanbrough with 46 and 35 respectively. Evan Pritz with 201 points for an 11.8 average, led Howe's Freshman basketball team to a winning season. Coach James Thompson's freshman netters had a regular season record of eleven wins and five losses. They also dropped another game to Washington in a close game for the City tourney, losing by only four points. Helping Evan out were Kevin Johnson and Wayne Munchel with averages of 9.4 and 7.3 respectively. Jim Holly and Mark Gillepsie were two others who did a fine job.

Varsity wrestling this year marked the first time this Howe sport has had a .500 season in over a decade. The wrestlers earned a fourth place in the Warren Central Invitational and took sixth place in both City and State Competition. John Mann won first place in the Carmel Invitational, while the squad placed second.

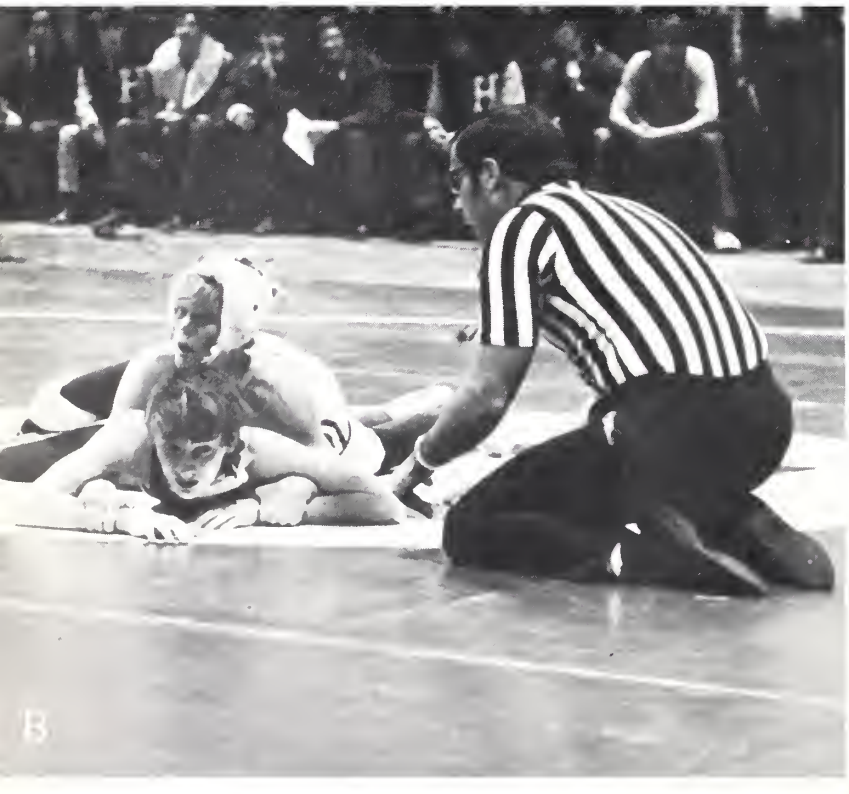

Leading scorer for the matmen was sophomore Mike Niggl. Other outstanding individuals on the squad as cited by Coach Mark Sutton were Seniors Mark Piercy and Pat Smith who both received runner-up honors in the City Tournament.

John Mann and Mike Niggl served as co-captains of this year's grapplers. At the Winter Sports Award Ceremony, Mark Piercy was awarded Most Valuable Wrestler and Wiley Craft received the Best Mental Attitude Trophy, decided by team members and coaches.

Freshmen wrestlers displayed an impressive seven and one record this year taking first in the Howe Invitational and eleventh in City Competition. Harold Wilkerson in a stunning individual performance captured the City Championship while Don Rech was runner-up and Gary Pottorff took fourth, each in their respective weight classes.

This past summer reserve and varsity cheerleaders attended camp at Vincennes University. At the camp Nancy Watkins and LuAnn Baker competed in the Miss Cheerleader Contest, with LuAnn placing in the top five.

The cheerleading program began in the fall, with a change in sponsorship, and the selection of freshman cheerleaders. Mrs. Linda James and Miss Cheryl Stegnach sponsored the cheerleaders. The freshman cheerleaders were selected by a panel of eighteen judges, six varsity cheerleaders, six Student Council members, and six faculty members. The tryouts were held in the gymnasium with approximately 134 applicants. Judging was based on a number scale ranging from 1 to 5 in the areas of ability, poise, tumbling, personality, rhythm and grace. After the scores were tabulated, the girls with the six highest scores were announced as the freshmen cheerleaders.

The freshman and reserve cheerleaders assisted at the varsity football and basketball games. Varsity Cheerleaders, not as limited in duties, assisted at wrestling and track meets, decorated locker rooms and team buses, and made spirit signs.

Interested Students Join G.A.A. and Intramurals

Intramurals were offered in the areas of basketball and bowling, which allowed friendly competition for boys who were not on varsity athletic teams. The bowling phase of intramurals gave the students a chance to compete against others their own age. Bowling was sponsored by Mr. Richard Harpold and met weekly at Play Bowl. Basketball was sponsored by Mr. Harry Preston, Mr. Alan Eiler, and Mr. Tim Jessup. The Faculty, led by Mr. James Hedges, Mr. Eiler, and Mr. "Captain Cook" Preston were tied for first place with the B.A. boys led by Ron Lawson, Melvin Franklin, and Tim Horn of the junior and senior league.

Girl's Athletic Association activity gave Howe girls a chance to improve their skills in gymnastics, bowling and various team sports. G.A.A. was sponsored by Mrs. Sandra Moreland and met weekly on Wednesday afternoons. For several weeks the girls met at Play Bowl to improve their bowling skills. The girls played touch football in the fall. G.A.A did not go by point standings and therefore did not have officers. The club was left open to all girls interested in the sport being offered each week. Interest was ranked more important than extraordinary skill.

Coaches, Lettermen, Managers Aid Howe

Female coaches gave a different look to the usual all male coaching staff. Mrs. Nancy Kemper coached the Girl's Volleyball Team in it's first year. The volleyball team gained knowledge and experience from participating in inter-school activities. Miss Janice Brown, the original coach of the Girl's Gym Team, sponsored them in their eighth year of competition. The Gym team members competed in both city and state tournaments.

Student managers and lettermen volunteered time and energy doing various jobs during the sports season. Student managers were responsible for cleaning equipment and taking care of the records.

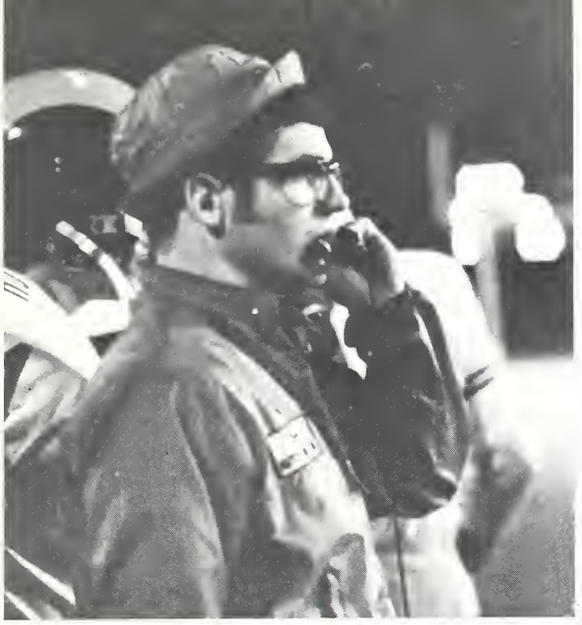

The Lettermen's Club served Howe by aiding viewers and team members by taking tickets, sweeping the court during basketball halftime, distributing programs, and officiating as sideline officials. The Lettermen's Club held meetings before school to plan their activities.

Mr. Sam Kelly has been head of the Athletic Department since 1943. He oversees many of the activities of the coaches and business in the Athletic Department. The president of the Lettermen's Club was Pat Smith and it was sponsored by Mr. Mark Sutton, who also coaches wrestling.

Under the expert leadership of Coach Jan Brown the girls gymnastic team had a winning season, losing only one meet to Columbus North, the state champions.

The optional team placed first at sectionals and first at regionals. They went on to state where they took third, losing by a small margin to Portage and Columbus North. The compulsory team was wedged out of first place at their sectionals by Plainfield, the regional champions.

For the first time since the team came into existance the tumblers entered into two types of meets; compulsory and optional. In compulsory meets the girls have a specific routine they are required to do and are judged on how well they execute the routine. Optional routines are made up by the performer and judged not only on execution, but on the difficulty of the routine.

The Mens 400 Club purchased a traveling suspension system for the girls. This helps the girls learn new and difficult tricks which may be dangerous and hard to learn. The old set of uneven parallel bars were replaced by a new set of Olympic Unevens. The new bars are held up by steel cables set into floor plates.

Rossi Chosen NHS President

Scholarship, service, leadership, and character are the qualities a student must possess to be a member of National Honor Society. As a junior, the candidate must rank in the upper ten percent of his class and maintain a 6.0 grade average. A senior must rank in the top fifteen percent of his class and maintain a 6.0 grade average. Elections held in February provided the NHS with officers. Quill and Scroll is a publications honorary consisting of members from the Hilltopper and Tower Staffs. Sponsers of the two publications chose the students they felt were outstanding in their publications and those who had a B average or better. Selection is made in April.

Tower Staff Reorganized Paper Given New Look

Change and innovation marked this year's issues of the Howe Tower. Led by editor Lee Anne Brooks, the staff used various methods to make the 1972-73 Tower unique. A special spirit issue for the Howe-Washington game, all downstyle headlines, gave the paper a new look. The staff was reorganized, abolishing the position of chiefs of staff and adding layout editors. Tower troopers attended workshops and exchanged newspapers with other schools to obtain new ideas. Under the guidance of "Mom" Jones, the young staff quickly became accustomed to the world of headlines, bylines, and cutlines.

Mr. Steven Briggs sponsored the National Forensic League. Students who participated in the organization competed in city and state wide debates. The NFL members were usually speech students interested in furthering their skills and techniques.

Replacing graduated members of the 1972 Quiz Team was the prime responsibility of Mr. Ron Finkbiner. Seniors Paul Gerzon and Albert Rossi, members of the quiz team for the past three years, filled head positions. Senior Doug May and sophomore Dan Whitaker were the other team members.

Student Council Sponsers Dances, Nelson New Advisor

Student Council President Vince Griffo and secretary Peggy Brownlee attended the Mayor's Youth Council meeting at the City-Council building. Peggy visited the welfare department while Vince was sent to the Alcohol Safety Action Project. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint students with different areas of city government and how they operate. Howe's Student Council school activities included a Thanksgiving sock hop, "Turkey Stomp", and a Canned Food Drive. Two Christmas programs sponsored by Student Council were the Christmas party for the children of General Hospital. GAA and Student Council's Annual Winter Wonderland Dance was cancelled due to student lack of interest. This year's new advisor, Mr. Arnold Nelson, supervised the Council's activities.

Choir, Octets

Selected voices from Girls and Boys Concert Club made up the Concert Choir directed by Mr. Frank S. Watkins. Singing downtown on the circle at Christmas, performing in the Christmas and Spring Festivals, and competing in the All-City Program were several of the activities of the choir. Meeting each day first period, the choir perfected songs and practiced parts for preparation of the musical production given in the spring. Boys and girls selected from choir perform in the Boys and Girls' Octets directed by Mr. Tom Lewis and Mr. Watkins. The groups sang in the community and gave live performances at church functions.

Madrigals
Concert Clubs

Comprised of sixteen members, the Madrigals were directed by Mr. Robert Bramblett. Madrigals performed music written in the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Their performances included the Spring Festival, Community programs, and a Christmas performance in the traditional Yuletide manner.

Girl's Concert Club and Boy's Concert Club also perform for the Christmas Program and the Spring Festival. Girl's Concert Club, directed by Mr. Frank Watkins, met twice a day because of it's tremendous size. Boy's Concert Club, directed by Mr. Thomas Lewis, held class during third period each day. Both concert Clubs sing a wide variety of music. To be a member of these groups a student must try-out and be selected.

Pop's Concert Initiated

In 1972 the 70 members of Howe's orchestra created many musical moods. Mr. Robert Beckley directed the orchestra as they played for the Senior Play; the Christmas program, the musical and vespers. They also added something new with a Pop's concert in November. In the spring they gave two concerts at local grade schools and played "music-to-shop-by" at Eastgate.

The String Ensemble performed for the Brown and Gold and during the intermission of the Pleasant Run Varieties. They recieved a distinct honor by being asked to play for the Indiana Music Educator's Association at the Hilton Hotel.

Dance Band Initiated

Mr. Terrill Mahler, assisted by Mr. Tom Lewis, directed the Howe band during seventh period practice and at half-time shows at home football games. Several 7:00 a.m. practices proved necessary to learn marching techniques and music. Unhappy at the prospect of waking early, band members realized extra practice added to the appearance of the shows. Senior Don Engelking served as drum major, assisted by Cheryl Hanlon. Howe's Pep Band helped boost spirit at the home basketball games. In the spring, the Band performed at the annual Orchestra and Band Concert. The Howe Band played at the ROTC Inspection and commencement at the end of the year.

Senior Class Presents Inherit the Wind

The play presented by the senior class this year was Inherit the Wind. The scene for this drama is fictional, however, its origin is not so fictional. Actually, the genisis of Inherit the Wind, lies in the historical Scopes Monkey Trails. These procedings, conducted in 1925, in Dayton, Tennessee demanded the attention of two of the most brilliant legal minds of that era, William Jennings Bryan, and Clarence Darrow. These characters, portrayed by Alan Seale and Curt Mather respectively, met under simple circumstances from which conclusions of grave importance to the advance of mans knowledge were reached. The defendent in the trial as played by Ron Turner, was accused of violating the sanctity of the Book of Genisis by teaching evolution to his high school biology class.

The play this year was directed by Betsy Spice, and she was assisted by Paula Wagner. Mrs. Harriet Baker was the Senior play sponser. Mr. Pirtle's stage crew, headed by Phil Pash provided valuable assistance in the production.

Tommy Finds Fiona in Brigadoom

A village that appears only once every hundred years? Impossible? Not for Howe's music department. March 29,30, and 31 were the dates for this year's musical.

Brigadoon is the story of two New York hunters, Tommy Albright and Jeff Douglas, who lose their way in Scotland and stumble upon the 18th century village of Brigadoon. In it they find the townspeople happily preparing for the wedding of Jean McLaren and Charlie Dalrymple. Tommy and Fiona, Jean's sister, fall in love and he must decide whether to stay in Brigadoon or go back to the 20th century.

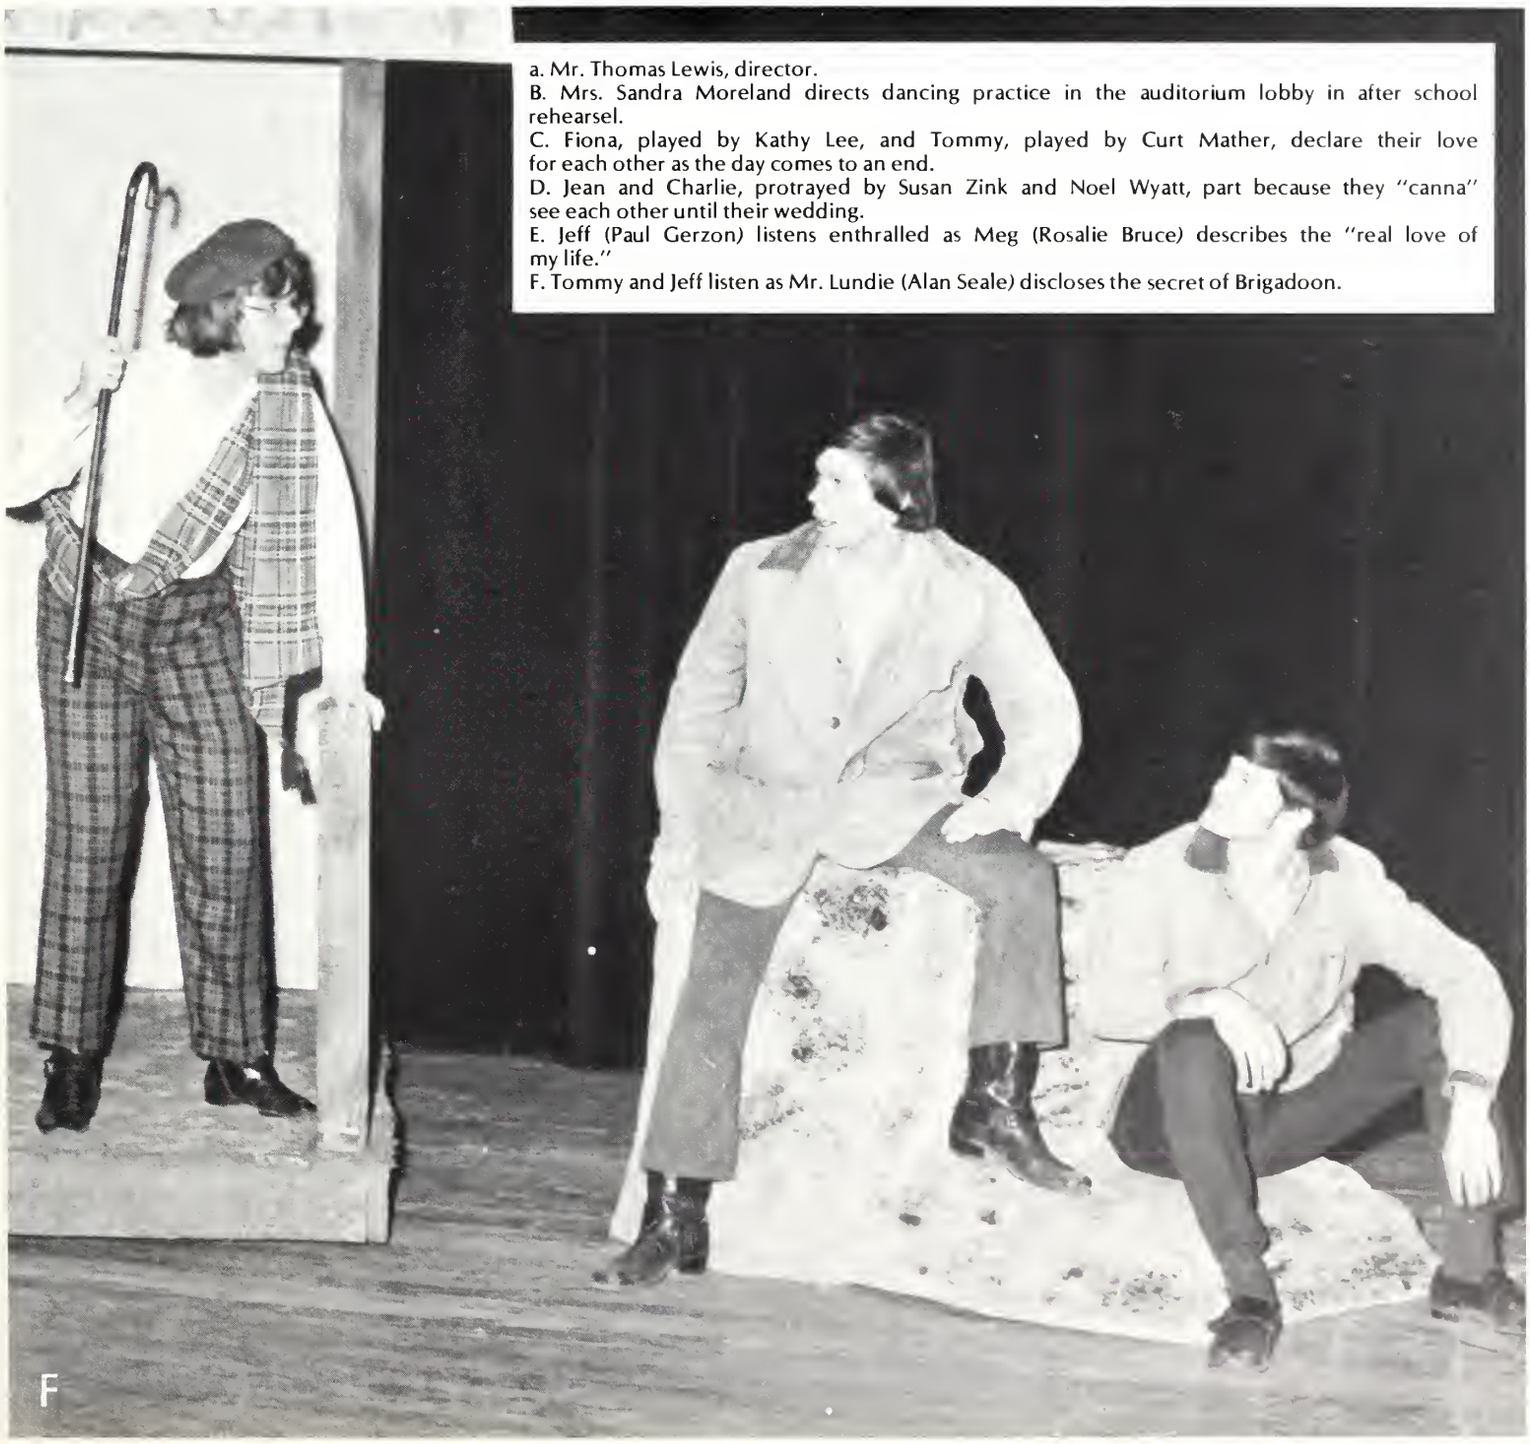

As they fall deeper in love, Tommy finds out why the village appears only once a century. He returns to New York but finds he cannot live without Fiona and the two are reunited. The play is spiced with the appearances of Meg, the town flirt.

The musical consisted of eight main parts and ten secondary parts. The whole Choir was involved in the chorus. This was the first year Mr. Watkins did not take charge. Instead, Mr. Thomas Lewis was director of acting and Mr. Robert Bramblett was in charge of choral work. Mrs. Sandra Moreland advised dancing.

Students Gain Experience Theaterical Productions

I

Sponsored by Mr. Charles Pirtle, the Stage Crew spent each ninth period preparing for the various productions given throughout the year. Boys interested in the side of action that deals with sound took part in the Sound Crew which regulated sound at games, assemblies, and on stage. Students interested in gaining theaterical experience joined the Revelers-Thespians club. Although the club had a small amount of members, plays were presented. Advised by Mr. Harriet Baker, the group elected Paula Wagner as the president. Along the stage line was the Make-Up Crew. Duties included learning the basics of stage make-up.

Howe's Honeys Are Happy Hornets

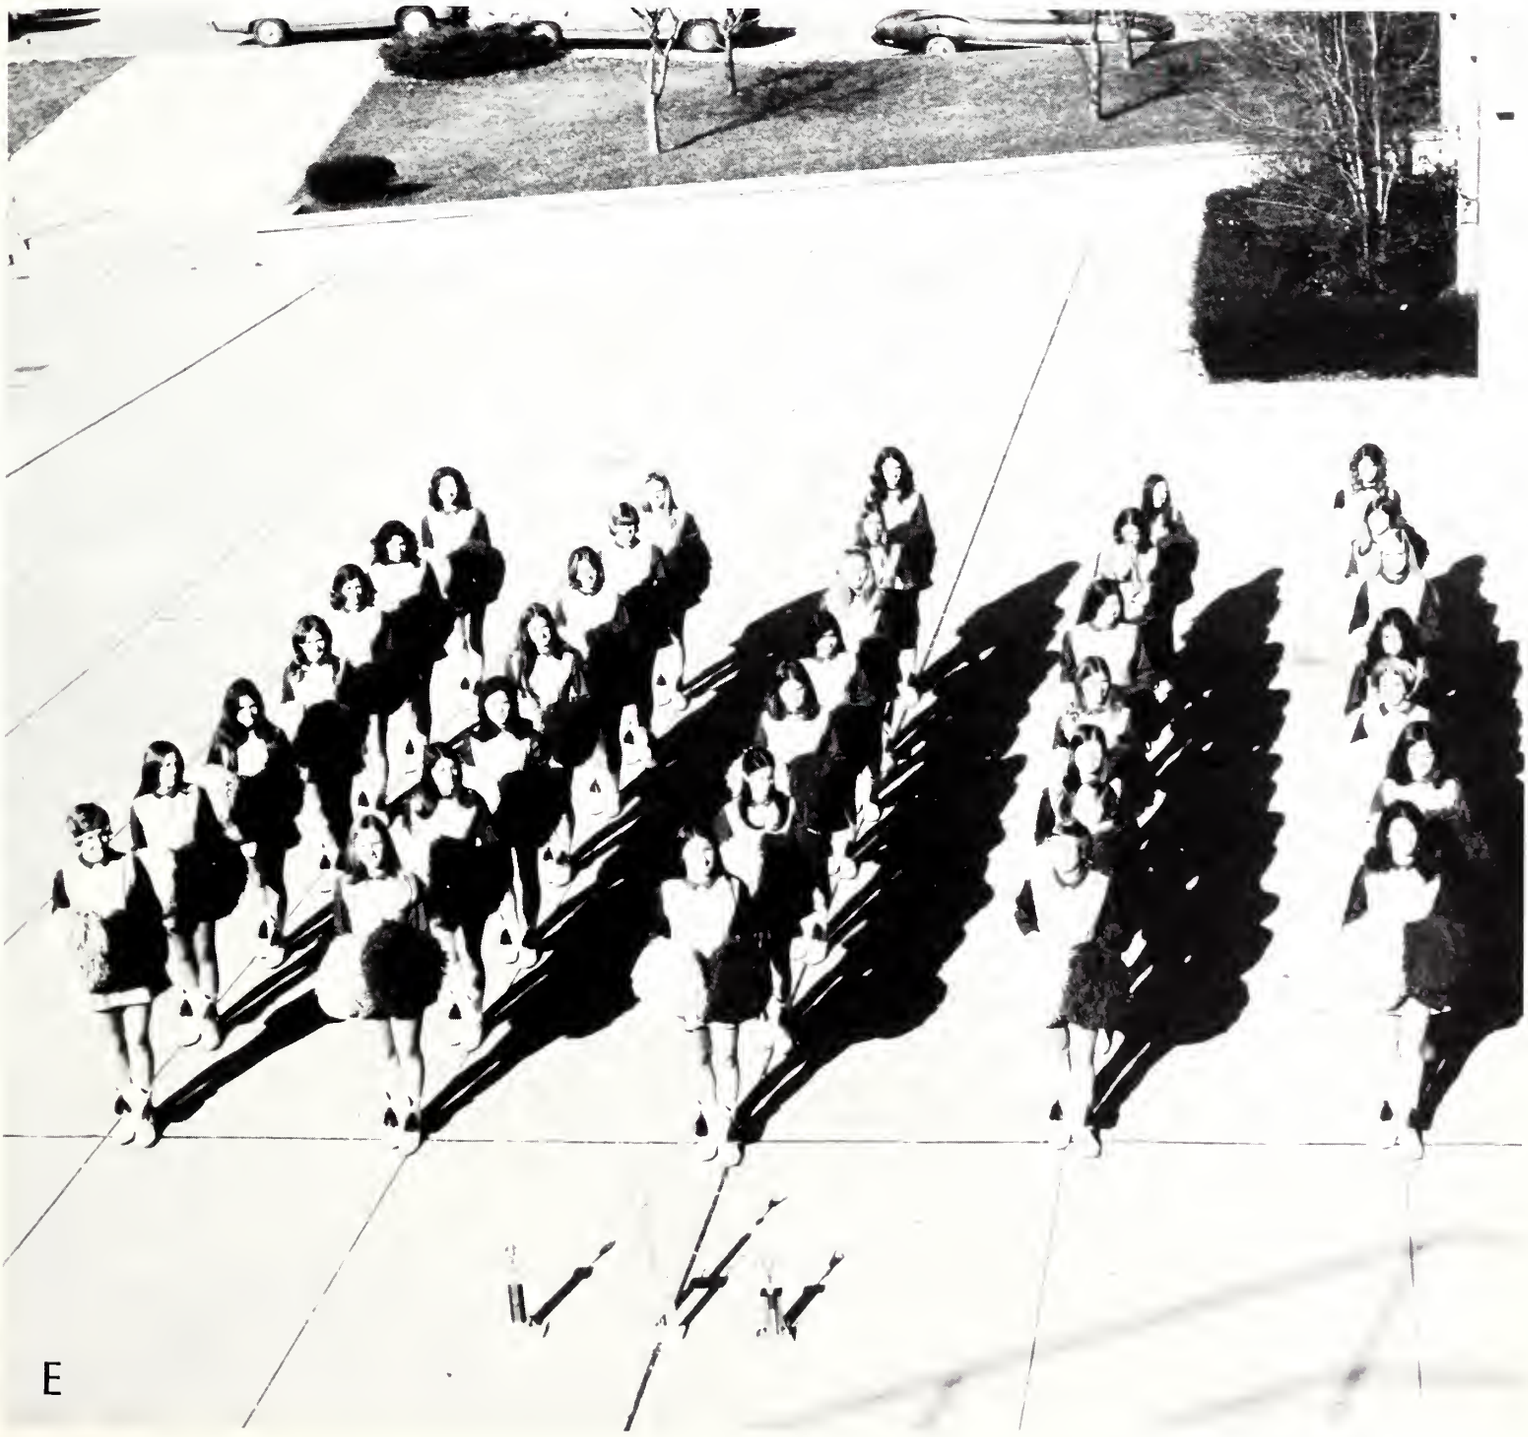

Hard work paid off as the Hornet Honeys performed at each home football and basketball game. Captain Connie Chaplin headed the team which used tapes and records to make up the dances. One might find them on the stage one day, in the overflow, out in the stadium, on the patio, or in the gym. Twelve members of the squad attended Vincennes University Drill Camp where they placed second in the dance competition. Sixteen members of the marching team placed first in the Tech-City drill meet for the third consective year. The team also performed at the reception given in Mr. Stirling's honor and at the half-time show at Butler for the December 23 game against Ball State. Dressed as elves, the girls threw candy to the crowd while Howe's band played Jingle Bells The average cost for one girl for one season including camp, tickets, outfits, and boots could run up to over $100.

Preston, Banks New Club Sponsers

The Latin Club kicked off its year with a new sponsor, Mr. Harry Preston. The club planned several activities. At the Slave sale, all new members were sold at auction to the highest bidder. The Roman Banquet and the Club's trip to the state convention were two highlights of the year. At the convention, club members participated in mythology and etymology contests.

The History Club began its year with two projects. The first project, for the Indiana Junior Historical Society Convention, was called "The Rise and Fall of Union Station". The second involved the making of plans for Marcy McDowell's campaign for re-election to the office of Senior Director South of the I.J.H.S. Mrs. Barbara Banks was the new sponsor.

Audio-Visual assistants cleaned and repaired equipment as well as help schedule and distribute films. They also aided in handling the audio equipment.

The boys involved in the video-tape aided Howe considerably. They filmed the varsity, junior varsity and freshman football games to aid the coaches. The boys played a vital role in Howe's athletic activities.

Chess Club Increases in Membership

The Naturalist Club was open to all students interested in science. Club members furthered their interests in the study of geology. They were especially interested in the tumbling of stones. The Naturalists get their name from their interest in natural science. The Atom Dust is a bi-weekly, science-oriented newspaper that hoped it would be scientifically helpful and enjoyable. The Chess Club is a member of the Central Indiana Chess Assocation. Club standings were determined on a point system. Individual matches were held throughout the week. Each player eigher gained or lost points. The five with the most points played in the inter-school chess matches. Home Ec Club projects were designed to aid the less fortunate. They made slippers for people in a nursing home and gave a party for under-privilaged children of the Irvington Community.

Nats Win Governor And Judges

The United States witnessed mass split ticket voting in the 1972 election. The Howe Mock Election was similar. Although the Nationalist party captured the office of governor and judicial posts, the Federalist candidates swept the offices of lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state auditor, and attorney general. Originated in 1940, the Mock Election gave students the opportunity to witness government's operation. The winning candidates appeared as guests at an UNIGOV City-County Council Meeting and had their names read into the record. Students enrolled in U.S. History, Government, or Economic classes were eligible to participate in the election as a candidate or a voter.

Vicki,
It really has been fun being a messenger with you! I hope things work out for you & Steve.
It's good to be getting out,
but it's SAD! So make the most of your senior year. It all goes so fast, then it's over forever.
If you ever need anyone to talk to just call me.
Thanks for listening to all of my problems. It's helped me out an awful lot. Don't let anyone walk on you.
Christ the best for you always!

Vicki,
You're a real sweet girl who lives on a street I can't ever find. It's really been a lot of fun
this year in homeroom
& also in lunch.
We've also got a lot of memories from Driver
Ed. Just think we almost killed each other! I hope to see ya lots this summer and I hope you have a fun summer.
See ya next year!
Luv

The production of a yearbook has never been an easy thing. Plans for the 1973 Hilltopper were being made before the 1972 Hilltopper had been distributed to graduating seniors. In late March and early April, the 1972 editorial board and junior staff members interested in the position of Editor chose new staff members after interview sessions, appraising teacher recommendations, and reading samples of writing. Finally a staff was chosen and only the top positions were left to be filled. In May, Carolyn Crooks was named Editor and Sharon Williams Assistant Editor.

In June, as the guests of Mr. William Wright of American Yearbook Company, Mr. Edward Kuonen, Hilltopper advisor; Carolyn, Sharon and senior staff members Ron Turner and Mike Norris visited the American Yearbook Plant in Clarksville, Tennessee. Discussion at these meetings ranged from yearbook sales campaign to the creation of the cover appearing on the 1973 Hilltopper.

The editors attended the Indiana University Yearbook Workshop the last two weeks in July. The headaches, hair pulling, and hectic time schedule proved invaluable. Carolyn won a journalism scholarship to I.U. and Sharon learned how to write useful and meaningful copy.

With the beginning of a new school year, staff members encouraged sales campaigns, underclassmen pictures, and the annually sponsored dance, the Brown and Gold. Throughout that time, the staff managed to meet deadlines, although sometimes we were late. Mr. Kuonen, Carolyn and Sharon repeatedly consulted with Mr. Wright, and Mr. Steven Lietz who was contracted to design the cover, opening section, division pages, and further develop the lettering originally designed for the 1972 Hilltopper. In producing the 1973 book, we have continued in our efforts to express the changing attitude and atmosphere of Howe High School. Seniors can remember a less crowded exit 5, when girls were not permitted to wear jeans, and the absence of security guards.

The process of change continues with the passage of time. The 1973 Hilltopper Staff wishes to thank the following people for their efforts in aiding us with the production of the book; Mr. William Wright of American Yearbook Company; Mr. Ed Bowers, owner of Tower Studies; Mr. Gene Alvarez, photographer; and Mr. Edward Kuonen, Advisor.

Well we made it
have made another year
though another year and we are still best of friends. We have come along way together. Been good friends since 3rd grade.
I hope you and Steve make it and I know you will. I want to wish you and Steve the best of luck in your life together. Don't ever forget me and keep in touch when you leave.
Love ya like a sis and always will
